

Topical Health and Safety Updates

Back to Basics: Know your PPE obligations

Under the PPE at Work Regulations 1992, employers are required to provide PPE free of charge if a risk assessment shows it is needed.

READ MORE

Back to Basics: How to Ensure your Site Safety Walk-arounds are Effective

Walk-arounds are one of the top ways we can protect against safety complacency and make sure hazards are identified and resolved.

READ MORE

National Employee Appreciation Day

Engaged Employees Equals Higher Productivity and Safer Working Environments. What can you do to show your employees they're appreciated?

READ MORE

Effectively Managing Contractors

Managing contractors in accordance with UK law involves several key considerations to ensure compliance and successful working relationships.

READ MORE

HSE Awareness Campaign: Future Dangers of Asbestos

There are five essential steps to an asbestos risk assessment, which must be carried out by a suitable qualified, competent person.

READ MORE

Fairground and Amusement Park Safety Considerations

Organised fairgrounds will normally be run by a person belonging to a member of a recognised trade association.

READ MORE

HSE Prosecutions Update

Company fined after worker injured by 300kg batteries

Read more

Engineering company fined after workers loses two fingers

Read more

Farmer fined after friends had to climb tree to escape cow attack

Read more

Annual Health & Safety Conference 2024

Never Stop Improving, Never Stop Learning!

Wednesday 5th June, Delta Hotel Milton Keynes

Don't miss your chance to register for the Riskex Annual Conference

delivering AssessNET

Upcoming webinar:

Taking a proactive stance on managing CoSHH Risk

29th February 2024, 11am

Join us tomorrow for our exclusive webinar, 'Taking a Proactive Stance on Managing CoSHH Risk'